Youth, Unable To Swim, Drowns at Yacht Harbor Despite Rescue Attempt

Unable to swim but game enough to try to learn the "hard way", Russell James Larson, 19-year-old pin-setter at Dodge's Redwood Bowl in Redwood City, drowned at the Redwood City Yacht Harbor on Monday despite desperate attempts to save his life by a companion and the fire department first aid crew.

The husky, blond youth, who came to this community from North Dakota about two years ago, jumped off the swimming float at the harbor to join his companion, Pollard Hund, 17, of Emerald Lake, who had been swimming for several minutes.

Hund said young Larson had told him he could swim, but no one ever had seen the boy in the water, although he frequently visited the harbor. Relatives said he did not know how to swim.

As soon as Larson hit the the water he began to flounder and call for help, Hund said.

NEARLY DROWNED RESCUER

"I rushed toward him to try and help him," Hund said, "but he wouldn't be quiet. I could have got him back to the float if he had quieted down.

"He got a headlock on me and I broke that. Then he got his legs around my head some way and held me under water, and I almost drowned. I guess he took in more water than I did, because he relaxed a little and I got away.

"He went down and I swam to shore and yelled for help. They thought I was fooling at first, I guess, but when I got to shore I ran toward the boat works and then they came to help."

By "they" the boy referred to other boys walking along the harbor front. The boat works is operated by Emil De Hoff, who supplied the rowboat from which the boy's body was recovered by John J. Mackenhausen, 27, harbor master. According to De Hoff and Hund, the boy was in the water between 8 and 10 minutes before he was brought up from eight feet of water by a boat hook wielded by Mackenhausen.

WORK FOR 40 MINUTES

The Redwood City Fire Department's first aid crew, aided by Ernest Werder, deputy county fire warden, and bystanders, worked over the boy for 40 minutes with an inhalator and artificial respiration, but were unable to revive him.

Dr. H. A. Clattenburg, who arrived less than 15 minutes after the crew started to work, said apparently there had been no chance of reviving the boy.

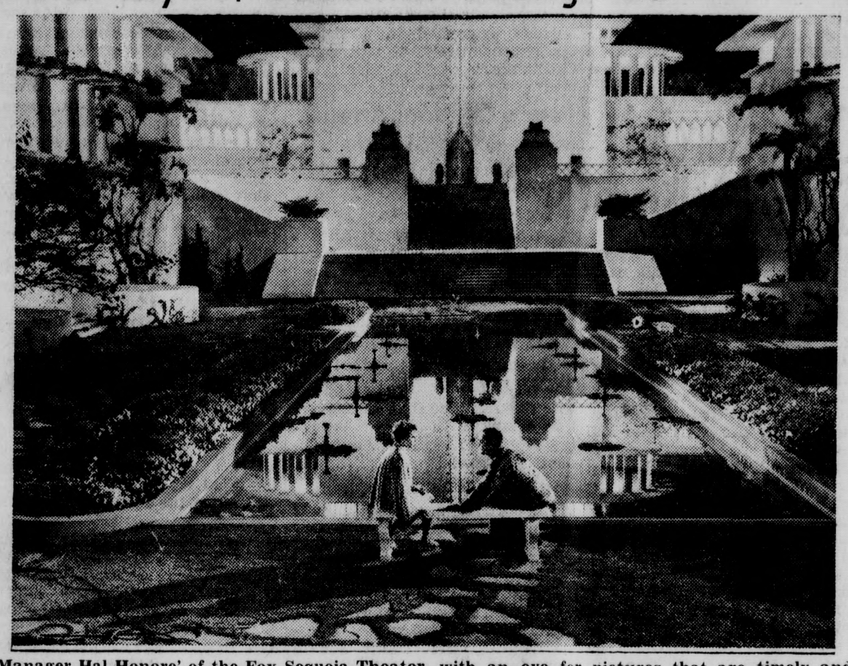
Young Larson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larson, who operate a farm at Glemburg, N. D. He had gone home last Fall to help with the harvest.

LIVED HERE WITH SISTER

A sister, Mrs. Leroy M. Berg, lives at 2830 Blenheim Ave., Dumbarton Oaks. The youth had been living with them. Mrs. Berg told Deputy Cornor Lewis Franklin that her brother could not swim.

The fingers and eyes of professional sorters of mohair have to be so sensitive they can divide batches of goats' hair into 30 classifications that vary only 37 ten thousandths of an inch.

The Idyllic, Beautiful Shangri-La



Manager Hal Honore' of the Fox Sequoia Theater, with an eye for pictures that are timely and popular, has turned back the pages a few years in order that those who loved "Lost Horizon" with its message of peace and good cheer might be thrilled to its message retold. Coupling this with "The Awful Truth," in which Cary Grant and Irene Dunne started a cycle of mirth, he will offer both attractions on his screen commencing at a 1 o'clock matinee Tuesday. These pictures will also be featured Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Motor Dealer Tripped, Injured; Asks Damages

Harold H. Bromberg, operator of the Burlingame Motor Co., Burlingame, has filed suit in superior court for $22,042.64 damages against Seth Cohn, owner of the Atlas Electric Co. of 135 B St., San Mateo, and an employe, A. F. Muhleman, for injuries he received in an accident Mar. 20.

Bromberg claims that as he was walking along a sidewalk on Howard Ave., Burlingame, he was tripped by a rope attached to an Atlas Co. truck engaged in removing some cables from a conduit. The rope was stretched across the sidewalk and was suddenly tightened as he stepped over it, Bromberg claims. He suffered a fractured right arm, cuts, bruises and shock, his complaint states.

Representing Bromberg is H. O. Mundhenk, San Francisco attorney.

Safety Measures To Be Taken

What safety measures can be taken at the Redwood City Yacht Harbor to avert such tragedies as Monday's drowning of Russell J. Larson, 19-year-old Menlo Park youth, will be a major problem before the Redwood City Recreation Commission when it meets Aug. 13, it appeared today.

The commission will take over control of the harbor from the port commission Aug. 1, City Manager C. L. Dimmitt revealed, and because of yesterday's tragedy will have the immediate problem of eliminating the hazards of the facility.

Dimmitt believes the only safe way to operate the swimming float is to keep it closed except during certain hours when a lifeguard would be kept on duty. Adequate life-saving equipment, such as a boat, grappling hooks, blankets and life-preservers, should and will be added, he said.

'Why Worry' Farm Is Sold for $50,000

Grounds and house of the famous Why Worry Farm at Woodside have been sold by Mrs. William P. Roth to Lloyd A. Johnson of Hillsborough for $50,000.

Supplementing the announcement of the sale, made through Coldwell, Banker & Co., Mrs. Roth said here that she has kept the stable, stable boys' building, and training track, and will continue her horse breeding and show activities.

The luxurious home, located in Woodside Valley, has long been one of the show places of the Peninsula and the scene of many activities in Peninsula social life.

Johnson is a manufacturer. He plans to move into his new home Aug. 1.

New Revision Of Licenses Agreed Upon

Another revision of the proposed new business license ordinance for Redwood City was agreed upon Monday when five local merchants met with members of the city council, city attorney and city manager.

Following a session that lasted almost four hours, the councilmen provisionally accepted a suggested schedule for retail business that would start the quarterly fee at $1.50 for businesses with monthly receipts of $300 or less and increase the license to $48 quarterly for firms doing $60,000 to $70,000 monthly gross business. Wholesalers would pay a schedule amounting to half that for retailers.

The question of whether a ceiling should be established, or $2 additional a quarter charged for each $5000 business a month over $70,000, was not decided.

The schedule was suggested by P. Arnold Anderson, tax analyst of the Municipal License Tax Association of California, who met with the group and presented a chart showing a comparison of the proposed schedule with that in effect in San Mateo.

City Atty. Albert Mansfield was directed by the councilmen present—Floyd D. Granger, H. W. Edmonds, W. M. Werder, George W. McNulty and Louis C. Christensen—to revise the proposed ordinance and return it to the council, probably on Aug. 19, for further consideration. Merchants attending the session were H. C. Mitchell, Roy Bissell, Edward Kaufman, Bruce Knox and Sam H. Winklebleck.

It is estimated that in fifty years, sales of power will repay the federal government with interest for the $103,000,000 spent on Boulder dam.

FIRE CHIEF CUFF BURNED

MENLO PARK—Defective wiring in an iron resulted in a smoke scare Tuesday afternoon at the home of D. J. Torney at 1040 Creek Dr. in Menlo Park. Fire Chief Thomas F. Cuff of the Menlo Park fire district was burned slightly on the left hand disconnecting the iron.

State Junior Chamber Head To Be Honored

R. C. Man's Father Dies at Palo Alto

Robert A. Hollis, father of Randall Hollis of Redwood City, died at Palo Alto Hospital Monday following an extended illness. Mr. Hollis, who was 70, was a retired drug and furniture merchant. He had lived in Palo Alto five years. His wife, Gertrude, and a daughter, Miss Iva Hollis of Palo Alto, also survive.

J. C. Chastain, resident of Redwood City for several years and former publisher of the weekly Standard here, is the new publisher of the San Carlos Bulletin. His wife, Louise Chastain, is listed in the last issue of the weekly newspaper as the owner of the publication, which is published at 1170 Walnut Ave., San Carlos.

Dangers of 'Statism' in California Told

Urging close scrutiny of all candidates in regard to their ideas on "statism," John J. Miller spoke on "Encroachment of Government on Individual Enterprise in California" before the Exchange Club Tuesday.

"Statism moves in first by regulation, then control, and then goverment ownership of business. The end of bureaucratic control is state monopoly," said Miller.

"This is no wild dream. Country after country in Europe has lost its rights of individual enterprise only to wake up too late under one kind of statism or other and with free enterprise a thing of the past.

"We all have seen various measures of regulation and control in our own country. It is easier to see them than to realize the disappearance of our free enterprise so dearly won and preserved under the American way of life.

"Few kinds of business have not felt the pressure. Ever since the NRA, there have been repeated attacks on business by state and national governmental officials, few of whom are men of business or other practical experience. Every business man knows of these attacks. No time at this moment to cite them. But only two fields have remained unscathed in this series of assaults—the press and insurance. Both of these are last-ditch stands against statism."

Miller said that in California the objective of some of those who believe in bureaucracy is an active and public plan to create a state monopoly in compensation insurance.

"This would be tragic for all employers and all employees in California," he said.

In addition to being fatal to private carriers of compensation insurance, such a plan to state monopoly is also a menace and a threat to all business in California, he claimed.

Miller is special counsel for the recently formed Individual Enterprise Alliance, a non-profit corporation, pledged to protect individual enterprise. Its membership is made up of employers, employes, business men, and citizens interested in "resisting the encroachment of statism in California."

Population Boosts Told

San Mateo County no longer can be referred to as "The Second Fastest-Growing County in the Fastest-Growing State." It lost that distinction during the past decade, release of census figures for California showed Monday, and is now only 10th.

Nevada County took this county's honors, showing an 81 per cent increase in population for 1940 over 1930. Largest population increase (percentage) was made by Shasta County, which jumped 106.5 per cent, to 28,754.

Other large percentage gains included: Mariposa, 69; Mono, 68; Kern, 61; El Dorado, 58; Yuba, 50; Madera, 47; Plumas, 47; San Mateo, 41; San Diego, 38; Tulare, 36.

Los Angeles County had the largest numerical increase—568,719 or 25 per cent—making that county's population now 2,777,211. San Diego County was second, with a 68,814 increase to 289,473.

Among cities, Los Angeles went up 258,954 to 1,496,792 and San Diego, 54,043 to 202,038.

The state's population gained 1,196,560 or 21.08 per cent, making the 1940 figure 6,873,811, compared to 5,577,251 in 1930.

All counties but Colusa, Imperial and San Francisco showed increases in preliminary figures, which are subject to increase in the final count.

Some of the census figures:

County	1940	1930
San Mateo	109,298	77,405
Santa Clara ..	174,367	145,118
Santa Cruz ..	44,806	37,433
San Benito ...	11,592	11,311
Monterey	72,860	53,705
Alameda	506,190	474,883
San Francisco.	629,553	634,394

As a result of California's population gain, the state is virtually certain to gain three members in congress, giving the state 23 national representatives in the lower house instead of 20, the Associated Press reported.

An inquest into a fire and explosion in London ended after seven months. The jury heard 1,674,000 words in evidence, and as a compensation for their work, were exempted from further duty for life.

Eleanor I. Sears Dies on Visit to M. P.

While on a visit with her sister, Mrs. Mary Fischer of Berkeley Ave., Menlo Park, Miss Eleanor I. Sears, a retired secretary, passed away early Sunday after a long period of ill health. She was 53 years of age. She made her home with a brother in San Francisco.

Vitamin B-1 Believed One of Most Essential

Vitamin B-1 is one of the simplest of all the vitamins, yet it is one of the most essential. The reason that it must be supplied regularly as part of the normal diet is that this vitamin is not stored up in the body. It is regularly consumed in energy and normal activity.

Because of this, scientists have made a particular study of foods containing Vitamin B-1. One of the most common sources of this vitamin is vegetables. Tests have disclosed, however, that because Vitamin B-1 is soluble in water, a great percentage of the natural vitamin in raw vegetables is thrown off in the water in which they are cooked.

Another food high in Vitamin B-1 is wheat. This would make bread a logical source of this energy vitamin, inasmuch as it is perhaps the most common food in every diet. In the past, however, the normal processing of flour and white bread has materially decreased the natural supply of the whole wheat grain.

The baking industry has been working on the problem of restoring the natural content of Vitamin B-1 to white bread for many years. It has finally been successfully solved through the use of high Vitamin B-1 yeast in the baking of white bread. High Vitamin white bread baked with this yeast has all the essential vitamins of 100% whole wheat bread.

While the amount of Vitamin B-1 in a few slices of high vitamin bread is not enough to supply all of the Vitamin B-1 required by the average individual it is a decided factor in remedying the Vitamin B-1 deficiency from which an estimated three out of four families suffer.

$148,230 Claim Brings $1500 Award Here

Superior Judge William F. James of Santa Clara County has decided here that only $1500 severance damages occurred to the Christian de Guigne Estate on Crystal Springs Rd., Hillsborough, from operations by the San Francisco Water Department. Excavations by the city caused slides on the de Guigne Estate, and the owners of the property claimed damages of $148,230.

Commercial Space Selling

The ever-growing San Mateo County Fiesta once again is keeping pace with the county's increasing business and population, it was revealed here by Pres. Bruce S. Gibson of the county fair association in his announcement of a heavier list of entries in the floral and agricultural competitive displays to date than at the same time last year.

The annual fiesta will be held this year from Sept. 19 to 22, inclusive, again at the lavish Bay Meadows racetrack at Beresford. The association is well toward the completion of arrangements and organization of exhibits, Gibson said.

"The response shown by both professional and amateur exhibitors indicates plainly that the fiesta will this year surpass any of its forerunners in size and elaborateness," Gibson said.

"Good news, too, is the fact that, even at this early date, more than half the commercial booths are contracted for.

"Likewise, great interest is being shown in the two new features of this year's fiesta, the amateur photography contest and the special display of hobbies. We believe that these competitions will present a 'human interest' attraction that cannot fail to command great attention."

In support of the fiesta, T. J. Hallinan, president of San Francisco Peninsula Inc., pledged full co-operation of his organization in assuring the success of the event.

"Aside from the enjoyment it gives Peninsulans, the fiesta is one of the most valuable forms of community promotion ever conceived," said Hallinan.

"Under the experienced management of Chester P. Lipman, secretary-manager, this annual event serves to bring thousands of out-of-town visitors and prospective home-seekers to the Peninsula. Seeing such floral beauty and driving through the various communities in the county, these newcomers cannot fail to be impressed with the unusual advantages of Peninsula life.

"Past experience shows that many a visitor has become a permanent resident, owning a home, contributing to the economic stability of the county. This year, when home construction in this area is reaching phenomenal heights, the fiesta should serve more than ever to aid the progress of the county."

Peace Officers Attend Meet With FBI Aide

Attending a meeting of peace officers of San Jose Tuesday at request of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were Sheriff James J. McGrath, Police Chief Tomas F. Burke of San Mateo, Lieut. Stanley D. Wood of Redwood City and numerous other Bay Region and Coast officers.

The meeting was presided over by N. J. L. Pieper, FBI agent, who discussed control of subversive activities in a move toward co-ordination of all law enforcement agencies.

U. S. army records show 528,274 regulars and volunteers fought in the Revolutionary war and 4,057,101 in the first World War.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—Thomas Kearney, lieutenant in the local police department, will leave this week on his annual vacation to be spent on the cooling shores of Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Isabelle S. Tannahill died at the home of her son, A. S. Tannahill, Oak Grove Ave., Tuesday following a brief illness. She had been here only two weeks when she suffered an attack of pneumonia. She had spent 47 years at Fresno.

Her husband, the late James S. Tannahill, was a contractor and builder at Redwood City and did a thriving business. In the early '90's a big boom started in the southern city. Tannahill, with others from this locality, left for Fresno where he established a paying contracting business, acquiring large land holdings. He died several years ago.

Tannahill, while in the county, was a prominent politician and at one time was an aspirant for supervisor of this township.

★ ★ ★

James D. O'Kane has gone to Lake Tahoe to spend a week. On his return he plans to visit the World's Fair in New York. This will make Mr. O'Kane's 10th trip across the continent.

★ ★ ★

The deer season started yesterday and will be opened for six weeks. Local hunters sought the haunts of the deer early on Thursday. Thus far, no venison has been passed around to neighbors. No doubt some one will bring in a fleet-footed animal before the season is over. So be prepared for those tempting, delicious chops.

★ ★ ★

Sunday afternoon the new parochial residence of the Church of the Nativity was formally opened for inspection. Hundreds of visitors viewed the beautiful home, well-appointed and modern, a splendid tribute to the generosity and spirit of the parishioners.

★ ★ ★

Miss Carmel O'Keefe left Thursday to spend a month at Lake Tahoe. She will be the guest of the J. Debenedetti family, who have a beautiful estate overlooking the lake and not far from the home of Felix McGinness.

★ ★ ★

A. V. Swift, candidate for state senator, was here this week calling on old friends. He most likely will be nominated for he is well-known in the district and has a spendid organization working for him.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Clement Shields of Half Moon Bay made a canvass of Menlo Park this week for the office of supervisor of his township. The dentist spent his boyhood in Redwood City and is well-known in this locality. His chances for election are excellent. He will receive a big vote here.

★ ★ ★

Menlo Parlor 211, NDGW, resumed monthly card parties by giving a whist party at Central School Auditorium last night.

★ ★ ★

Thomas Sexton is enjoying a two-week vacation. He will spend part of the time with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent P. Sexton of Brentwood, and their children, Jack and Richard. His aunt, Mrs. J. E. Weeden, will accompany him.

★ ★ ★

Isabelle Weeden Lindquist took Emma, Roberta and Billy to Santa Cruz Sunday. Henry James and Kem Rush, Billy's friends, went with them.

Menlo Park Squadron, Sons of the Legion, held installation ceremonies in Legion Hall last night.

Daytime Performance Planned for Ice Show

Another special daytime performance of the Ice Follies will be held at Winterland, in San Francisco, tomorrow afternoon.

This will be one of the concluding San Francisco appearances of the Ice Follies, for the dazzling spectacle will soon set forth upon its annual tour of 20 other cities.

"Last two weeks" has already been announced and, barring an extension, the 65 champion skaters who make up the Ice Follies cast will be en route East some time this month. They have played before more than 200,000 people in San Francisco.

The current production is different from the one which delighted thousands of people last year. Program, music, routines, costumes and lighting are all changed, but the same cast of stars is present.

Comedy has been stressed, along with the rhythmic grace and beauty of highly trained ensemble numbers

Ice Follies tickets are available for every performance at Winterland, WAlnut 0112; at Sherman Clay box offices in San Farncisco and Oakland, and by mail order addressed to Winterland, Post and Steiner Sts., San Francisco. On the Peninsula, tickets may be secured at the Peninsula Box Office, 542 Ramona St., Palo Alto, P. A. 22122.

Texas livestock and livestock products in 1939 yielded a cash income of $218,713,000, or $4,802,000 less than aggregate income from agricultural crops.

New Gasoline Development Told

Development of a new gasoline, capable of satisfying the requirements of the most exacting motorist, was hailed today by J. J. Baldwin, local representative of Tide Water Associated Oil Co., as he discussed the company's Finer Flying "A" Gasoline, recently introduced.

"Actually, all of us in the oil business have known for some time that changes taking place in automobile engine construction would necessitate the development of a balanced motor fuel capable of smoothness at every speed. Associated research engineers have been busy for months perfecting exactly the right blend to assure the quality of road performance demanded by motorists.

"Before Finer Flying "A" was introduced it was put through a series of exacting road tests to determine how it would react under all extremes. Cars were driven over the highest mountain passes in the West—then were driven below sea-level; through blistering heat of the desert and through snow areas. Under these most severe tests Finer Flying "A" gave perfect performances. This new gasoline answers each of the essential points with which drivers of motor cars are so familiar: Quick starting; fast warm-up; quick acceleration (or prompt throttle response); power; mileage; road anti-knock performance; freedom from vapor lock.

"These secret of the road performance qualities to be found in Finer Flying "A" Gasoline lies in the fact that seven different gasolines have been scientifically blended to form this new product."

John Jens, Pioneer Belmont Resident, Dies

BELMONT—John C. Jens, 77, pioneer Belmont resident and prominent San Francisco Mason, died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. M. Hanson, 1000 Ralston Ave., Belmont. He had been in poor health.

Mr. Jens first moved to Belmont 44 years ago, building the tower-topped home on Ralston Ave. which was named Jens Villa. He was a retired mining man.

A member of Mt. Moriah Lodge 44, F and AM, Mr. Jens was the oldest living past master of the lodge.

Water and Sun Bathing Room

An unusual bathroom, cool as a spring evening, has walls and woodwork painted off-white, with sash and doors outlined with a narrow border of gray.

Shower and window curtains are of apricot color and plumbing fixtures are lettuce green. Potted plants grow on the low window sill of the large window, which admits enough sunlight to encourage sun bathing.

The gray floor is spread with a gray and mauve rug in angular modern design. A couch for sun bathers has a cushion of apricot color.

Four Homes Started In Camino Villa

The sound of hammers has been heard in the vicinity of Camino Villa this week.

On the tract located between Rogers and Stafford Sts., a block from El Camino Real, four homes have just been started, according to H. H. Weiner of the San Mateo County Realty Co., who states that it is planned to have 30 homes erected there within the next few months.

Houses in the subdivision are to sell for from $3850 to $4500.

The Young Men's Christian Association originated in England in 1844.

Suggestions

Pointers On Porches

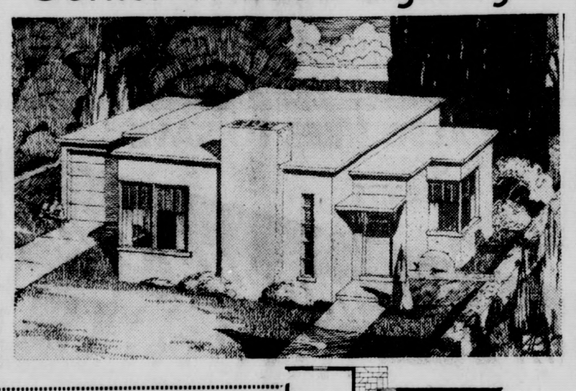
A modern porch can be the center of good-weather living—a good place for meals, a good place to entertain, a good place to read, and a mighty, mighty good place to sleep if there are screens or netting to baffle the bugs.

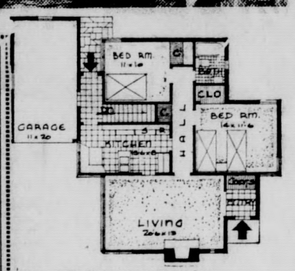
★ ★ ★

Privacy is the keynote of the modern porch or terrace, where in grandma's day the porch was a place to watch the world go by and to be watched by the passing world. Only goldfish enjoy such porches nowadays.

A Pedigreed Home

Cinder-Block House Has Corner-Window Lighting





By AP Feature Service

Essentially styled for the small and growing family, this ultra-modern dwelling can "unfold" as the family's space needs expand.

It is designed for later additions. Another bedroom can be added economically by extending the hall and re-arranging the closet space of the existing rear bedroom.

The 20 x 13-foot living room, and the corner-window lighting of the other ample rooms are additional features. An attached garage follows the favored trend in modern living.

Federal experts figure this home, of cinder block and white cement plaster finish, can be constructed for approximately $3700 in most communities, exclusive of lot. Federal supervision of construction is available under the Federal Home building service plan. Local lending agencies have full information.

Streets

Improvement Must Be In

The federal housing administration's insistence upon installation of adequate street improvements and upon the assurance of their maintenance before individual sites become eligible for insured-mortgage financing provides protection for those who buy or build homes in new subdivisions, Administrator Stewart McDonald declares.

The administrator's statement of policy in regard to subdivision street improvements and maintenance has been sent to all FHA chief underwriters in a letter from Frederick M. Babcock, assistant administrator and director of the underwriting division.

The FHA's policy is designed to discourage uneconomic land development and the sale of land beyond market needs solely for speculative purposes.

The letter states:

"In all instances there shall be proper installation or assurance of street improvements, and assurance of maintenance, before individual locations will become eligible for mortgage insurance.

"The most satisfactory form of maintenance is that which is undertaken by the city or county government by virtue of the acceptance of streets for dedication and maintenance. If it is impossible to secure this type of dedication and maintenance, the plat shall be recorded and assurance of maintenance secured by either a property owners' association or guarantee by the sponsor by posting of an adequate bond or an appropriate sum in escrow to maintain the streets until such time as the local governmental unit assumes responsibility for maintenance.

'Modern' Goes Soft

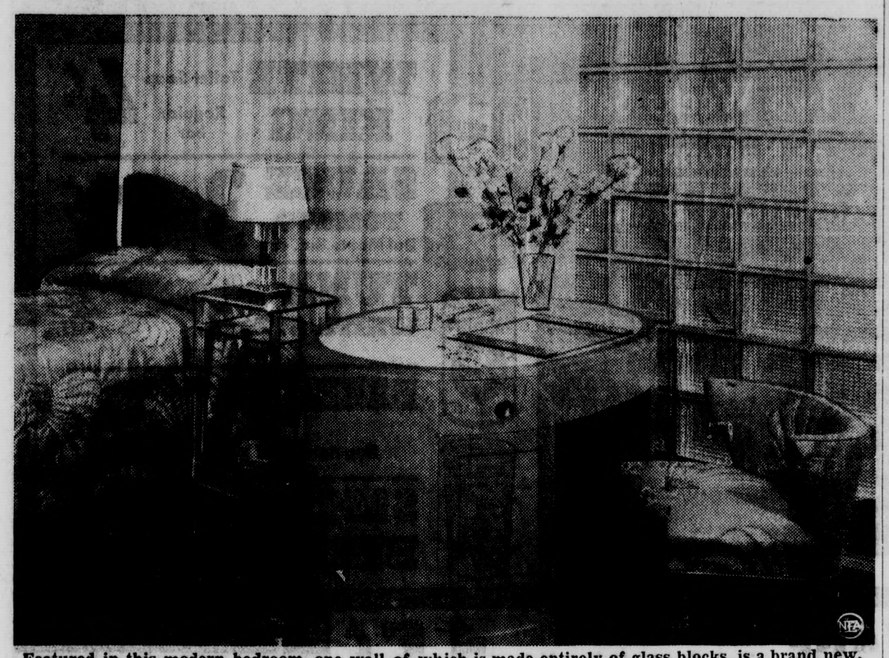
Former Cold Lines Give Way to Gracious Curves



Featured in this modern bedroom, one wall of which is made entirely of glass blocks, is a brand new, oval vanity-desk in off-white walnut and a night table with glass top and shelf. The attractive little modern desk chair is comfortable without being bulky. The bed has a headboard but no footboard.

By MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

The newest modern furniture, now featured in midsummer furniture sales, shows a tendency among designers of Modern to drift away from the cold, square lines toward gracious, pleasing curves — even carvings. The rather unlovely "packing case" lines of "Early Modern," so prevalent a few years ago, are seldom seen.

New wood finishes also are headlined. And decorators and interior designers continue to advocate the combination of Modern and traditional furniture in the same room.

WALNUT IN NEW FINISHES

In walnut—always a widely used wood in Modern—the newest of the bleached finishes is off-white. Alone or combined with natural walnut or other woods, this new blond tone is lovely against the increasingly popular pastel fabrics and wall paints or papers.

Black walnut also is used for the new, more gracefully-designed modern pieces. And between the off-white and the black, there is suntan, a smart in-between shade which is a riper version of the old harvest tones.

Interesting modern pieces are done in oak. There's off-white and natural, bleached to a soft canary tone. Also rose-quartz, which has a rosy glow. And slate-gray oak, for elegant, sophisticated decoration schemes.

Cordovan, a new mahogany finish, is deeper than ox-blood red and usually is highly polished. Another novelty is bleached mahogany with sky-blue paint rubbed into it. Off-white is shown also in mahogany.

VANITY TABLES SIMPLER

Modern vanity tables are much simpler than they were a few years ago. The new types are designed from a functional point of view, and they don't make a woman feel like a movie star in disguise when she sits before one of them.

Decorators continue to put the dresser bases in modern bedrooms side by side along one wall. Twin beds with a common headboard increase in popularity day by day. Boudoir chairs and chaises are lighter in line, often with legs as finely curved and tapering as any Sheraton designed. And upholstered pieces for the living room are deep and comfortable without being bulky.

San Carlos Couple Increase Stanford Gift

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Gift of $1000 by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Clayburgh of San Carlos in support of the Doris Clayburgh Steiner Fellowship in English at Stanford University was announced here by Pres. Ray Lyman Wilbur. It was made in memory of their daughter, Mrs. Robert D. Steiner, a Stanford graduate who died a year ago yesterday.

Last year following Mrs. Steiner's death they gave $10,000 to establish the Doris Clayburgh Steiner Endowment Fund for hospitalization of needy maternity cases at the Stanford Hospital. Since then friends of the family have added to this sum by contributions.

Simple Features Give New Life to Homes

The "hominess" of the average house can be increased, and at the same time its market value may be raised, by adding relatively inexpensive features which, although simple devices, can become so important that living in the home will revolve around them.

While the fireplace is usually the focal point of the living room, in many of the older types of houses it is often dingy and unattractive. Modern decorators have devised means of brightening them through the use of paint, new mantels, or large mirrors.

Another way to style a living room is through installing a large "picture window." A large window allowing a clear, undisturbed view of the landscape tends to bring the out-of-doors into the house and form a large living picture. Frequently its effect is to turn an otherwise undistinguished house into a showplace, while at the same time providing additional natural light.

For the Bathroom

Bench-Type Tub Is New But Popularity Is Proved

The bench bath made its debut at the recent 58th annual convention of the National Association of Master Plumbers in Cincinnati at a showing of new products developed by the plumbing and heating industries in recent months.

The bench type tub derives its name from the fact that the front rim is made inches wider than that of the usual fixture, according to the plumbing and heating industries bureau. The extraordinarily wide rim provides a comfortable seat or bench.

The bench bath idea has been developed by three manufacturers in three different models, all of which were on display at the Cincinnati plumbing show. One tub has decorative inclined panels that fade into the rim and lend distinction to the tub. Another has a large panel design on the front of the tub. The distinctive feature of the third style type bath is that the rim has been widened in the center of the tub only.

The additional width has been created by flaring out the apron or front wall of the tub for about three feet along the middle of the fixture.

The new bench type tubs are low in height, only 16 inches from floor to rim, making it easy to step in and out. A smooth flat bottom reduces the danger of slipping while bathing.

The bench type tub of one manufacturer has a rim that curves under, making a convenient hand grip when entering or leaving the tub, and a splash lip that prevents water in the tub from splashing on the floor.

Color Schemes

New Service Is Offered

A new service, designed to aid the present or prospective home owner, is offered by Redwood Paint & Wallpaper Company, 2034 Broadway, Redwood City, in a portfolio series of color schemes.

Each portfolio contains a group of sketches showing color schemes for walls, floors, trim, and furniture. The series includes plans for living rooms, bedrooms, kitchens, bathrooms and breakfast rooms.

By means of a new process, the colors shown in the sketches can be matched identically with the General Paint stock carried by the firm.

A Cozy Corner

A PERFECTLY handsome bleached walnut table, an interesting lamp and a comfortable chair make an attractive reading corner. The table has a double top, with a drawer and ample space for books between the two surfaces. A crystal ash tray and a bowl of shimmering, clear glass grapes are smart accessories.

LOUIS J. OUELLETTE

Whose appointment to the post of sales supervisor is announced by Forest H. Akers, vice-president and director of sales of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation. Ouellette has been on the Dodge executive staff for a number of years.

The statue of Freedom, surmounting the dome of the capitol at Washington, was modeled by Thomas Crawford, father of Francis Marion Crawford, the novelist.

Twenty-two U. S. presidents were lawyers—by far the leading profession in that office.

MA, HERE'S THAT MANNIKIN!

Yes, here he is again—and any resemblance between him and any living person is incidental! The one at the wheel is the Screwdriver, caught in one of his time-wasting acts as he held up traffic to talk to his step-brother, the Screwjay. Both these members of the bureau of waits aroused great interest when they infested local streets in behalf of the national share-the-road crusade to reduce traffic congestion.

HELD ON DRIVING CHARGE

Arthur Callesh, 32, laborer, was arrested at a Redwood City hotel on a Mountain View order for his incarceration for 30 days for driving while drunk. Police Chief C. L. Collins said Calles was convicted but released when he promised to pay a fine in installments. He disappeared and police had been seeking him.

Mother, Daughter Die Two Hours Apart

Death came to a mother and her daughter two hours apart Tuesday, the mother succumbing at the home of her son in Menlo Park, and her daughter in Fresno barely two nours later. Neither knew the other was critically ill.

Mrs. Isabella Stewart Tannahill, 81, died at the home of A. S. Tannahill, 718 Oak Grove Ave., Menlo Park, where she had been visiting the past six weeks.

Her daughter, Mrs. Janet Wickham of Fresno, passed away at her Fresno home.

Mrs. Tannahill, native of Ontario, Can., had lived in Fresno for the past 47 years. She is survived by three daughters, three sons, and two sisters, the latter both residents of Palo Alto.

Mrs. Tannahill's late husband, J. S. Tannahill, Fresno building contractor, built several of the Peninsula's palatial show places when the family lived in Redwood City until 1893, when they moved to Fresno.

Post Offices Plan To Register Aliens

San Mateo County's unnaturalized foreigners will be subject to registration and fingerprinting starting Aug. 27 when first and second class post offices on the Peninsula take over the task of listing all aliens.

Post offices at Redwood City, Burlingame, San Mateo, San Bruno, South San Francisco, San Carlos and Menlo Park all have been notified by the postmaster general's office in Washington that they will be required to participate in the registration program. It has been estimated that there are more than one million aliens in California to be registered.

At none of the Peninsula offices has definite information regarding the registration been received.

The aliens will be allowed four months in which to register, according to the provisions of the Alien Registration Act which was approved by the President June 29.

Relatives, Friend Given Hull Estate

Petition for probate of the will of Asa E. Hull, mayor of San Carlos who died June 27, and for her appointment as executrix of the will was filed in superiór court here by Mary Hull Shields of San Carlos, Mr. Hull's sister.

Value of the estate was given merely as "in excess of $10,000."

In a holographic will, written in 1928, Mr. Hull named as his heirs Mrs. Shields; his nephew and niece, William Coleman Hull and Mary Ellen Hull of San Francisco, and Miss Sophie Gleichner of San Carlos, a friend of the Hull family for many years.

Mrs. Shields was given all stocks held by Mr. Hull. Residue of the estate, according to the will, is to be divided between the other three legatees. Mrs. Shields is to be given half of the residue, with the other three dividing the other half.

The will also asks that Mrs. Shields be appointed executrix. Attorneys are Ross & Ross.

Lafayette Club Gives Indorsements

San Mateo County's Lafayette Club, made up of French-speaking American citizens, announces indorsement for coming elections. It is on record as favoring control of county funds spent by the fiesta.

In its stand on the county fiesta funds, the Lafayette Club backed County Executive Frederick Peterson, who has insisted that the county funds contributed to the annual floral fete be handled like other department's finances.

Countywide Radio Studied

Advised by Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan that the petitioners were in effect barking up the wrong tree, the board of supervisors took no action on Tuesday on a letter from Atty. E. C. Mahoney of Burlingame demanding that two constables and a deputy sheriff be retired immediately under terms of the State Mandatory Retirement Act for peace officers, listed as Act 6012 of the California Legislature.

The letter carried with it a threat of mandamus proceedings if the board refused to retire on pension Constable Fred Simmons of the Fourth Township, Constable Maurice Boland of the Second Township, and Ferguson Owen, deputy sheriff and constable for 23 years until 1934, when he was moved to Sheriff James J. McGrath's staff.

Mahoney's letter said, in part, "I have been trying since last March to bring about the organization of the board designated by the statute (a "board of police fund commissioners") to act on pension applications. Unless such a board is organized within the next 10 days, the applicants will resort to mandamus proceedings to force recognition of their rights."

FORMERLY ELECTIVE

Sullivan informed the board that the act mentioned by Attorney Mahoney applies only to appointive officials who are at least 55 and who have served 20 years as appointive officials. Up to 1933 constables were elective in this county, and therefore these applicants have not had more than seven years' service as appointive officers, Sullivan said.

The assistant prosecutor did tell the board, however, that the three applicants are effected by Act 5848 of the state legislature, which concerns county peace officers and specifically names constables among a list which also includes sheriffs and their deputies and other members of the county law enforcement agencies.

This act also sets retirement age at 55, if the applicant has served at least 20 years, but makes no distinction between elective and appointed officials. However, it makes it optional with the board, rather than mandatory, whether such men shall be retired.

It also provides for a participatory fund, in which the officers would contribute part of their salary and the county from tax revenues. Minimum retirement payment would be $100 monthly, maximum $150. The other act states that only 50 per cent of the officers' salary at the time of retirement shall be paid him when he goes on pension.

APPLIED FOR PENSION

Mahoney charged in his letter that Boland applied for a pension under the mandatory act June 8, and that nothing has been done about it. All three of the petitioners are eligible for pension under the optional act, according to Sullivan.

The board now awaits the next step by the applicants.

Other transactions by the board in its afternoon session yesterday:

Accepted, with Supervisor John A. Lynch dissenting on the first two, a set of three resolutions offered by Atty. George T. Kerr setting up machinery for street improvements in El Granada. The first resolution finds the project feasible under the Act of 1915 and the lands to be assessed able to carry the burden. The second adopts plans and specifications, and the third sets a public hearing for Sept. 3 at 10 a.m. in the board chambers in the courthouse.

Lynch voted against the first two on the grounds of past experience with the Act of 1915, he said, because it makes the county liable in the event of any default. He said he was in favor of a hearing.

CONSIDER RADIO PLAN

Appointed Supervisors Lynch and Alvin S. Hatch to meet with the county executive, the sheriff and the building inspector to investigate the possibilities of a county-wide radio system for the sheriff's office, that would be made available to all municipalities as a move for economy. Such a system was suggested by Hatch in a letter to the board. All the supervisors were in accord with the plan, provided it can be worked out.

Set for Sept. 3 a hearing on the rezoning of property held by Niels Schultz, Millbrae Highlands developer, to change from a one-family district to a business zone lands between El Camino Real and the Southern Pacific right-of-way. The hearing was asked by the planning commission, in a resolution.

Announced that the matter of altering the county ordinance so that the supervisors could have one night meeting a month, as requested by the Redwood City Commuters' Club to permit its members to attend such meetings, was in the hands of the district attorney and should be ready for adoption by the next meeting of the board, Aug. 6. The first night meeting probably will be held in September, it was announced.
